

A1200+ Replacement PCB - ReAmiga

I am now offering a new service to Amiga A1200 owners. A new main board has been reverse engineered by "Chucky" to replace the original board in these computers. I can offer a partially built board using new parts or kits of components for those who prefer to do their own soldering.

Please note that prices are subject to change without notice.

Parts supplied are not necessarily the same as shown on the A2000 BOM, but are functionally equivalent and are the same as used in our own builds. Some parts are tested, used / old stock as new parts aren't always available.
